TITLES FOR NOVELS.

The fact that the title selected for one of the season's new novels—"Let the Roof Fall Down"—has already attracted considerable attention, which is perhaps exactly what the author, or her publishers, intended it to do. The combination of words certainly arouses curiosity. It also foreshadows, according to the law of imitation in book titles familiar to all whose business lies with literature, the likelihood of numerous variants, of which "Let Us Raise the Roof" would be the most obvious. We have just passed through a period of titles of novels beginning with "When," started by Mr. Charles Major's "When Knighthood Was in Flower," and through the still more recent "Call of" style of title, introduced, if we remember aright, in Mr. Jack London's "Call of the Wild." A decade or so ago Mrs. Deland's "John Ward, Preacher," somewhat of a novelty in the way of titles, brought down an avalanche of similar inventions, among them "Metzger," "Shoemaker."

The range of the novelist's inventiveness in the matter of good titles is amazingly narrow, and is almost reducible to a very few overworked rules, which such brilliant exceptions as "The Scarlet Letter" and "Vanity Fair" only serve to prove. First and foremost, in length of service and literary importance owing to the masterpieces to which it is attached, is the descriptive title, of which "The Bride of Lammermoor" and "The Heart of Midlothian" are perfect examples. This form of title has been and continues to be at one time or another the refuge and reliance of all novelists. "The Pilgrims of the Rhine," "The Adventures of Philip," "A Tale of Two Cities," "Diary of the Crossways," "The Return of the Native," "The Marriage of William Ashby," "The Prisoner of Zenda" and "The Intrusions of Peggy," which, of course, leads direct to "The Misadventures of Nancy."

They are good, trustworthy titles, but they are not felicitous inventions. Although even the best of them have only occasional moments of inspiration in the naming of their books, Meredith had such a moment when he found "The Tragic Comedians." Wilkie Collins succeeded in the case of "The Woman in White" and Charles Reade had a rare knack of choosing titles that awakened interest. Henry James, too, has often succeeded singularly well in inventing titles that suit his subject and his treatment of it to perfection.

Another rule for the naming of a novel is to form its title out of the kernel of an appropriate quotation, and here Mr. Howells stands first. He has gone repeatedly to Shakespeare in naming his books, and, of course, never in vain: "A Foregone Conclusion," "A Hazard of New Fortunes," "A Counterfeit Presentment," "A Modern Instance"—these are titles of merit. But Mr. Howells has also a fine gift of originality in choosing titles, as witness the appropriateness of "Indian Summer" and "April Hopes," while the far more recent "London Films," of the essence of the book it names, proves that the gift has not forsaken him. —New York Tribune.

EASILY BREAKS
A SEVERE COLD

In Just a Few Hours All Misery From a Bad Cold or the Grippe Will Be Overcome.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

It is a positive fact that a dose of Pape's Cold Compound, taken every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken, will end the Grippe and break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach, limbs or any part of the body.

It promptly relieves the most miserable neuralgia pains, headache, dizziness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous or watery discharges, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine, made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects, as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

LITTLE BALD SPOT

MEN BE SENSIBLE. DON'T LET IT
GROW MORE CONSPICUOUS.

If you are beginning to worry about that spot right on the top of your head, where the hair is thin or has disappeared entirely, Don't worry any longer. Go to Phillips at once and get a 50-cent bottle of Parisian Sage.

If that won't check the falling hair, and cause new hair to grow; nothing on this earth will.

Dandruff causes hair to fall and baldness; dandruff germs cause dandruff. Parisian Sage kills the germs; eradicates dandruff; stops falling hair and itching scalp, or money back at Phillips.

It will cause the hair to grow, if the hair root be not dead. It causes the hair to grow thicker, more luxuriant, and puts so much new life into it that it grows lustrous and beautiful.

The girl with the Auburn hair on every package, 50 cents at Phillips and druggists everywhere. Mail orders filled by American makers, The Gironx Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Weak Over-worked Women

Who are broken down and made invalids by the drudgery of never ending household cares and duties, or by over-frequent bearing and nursing of children, and many other cares, burdens and strains which the weaker sex have to bear, are deserving of profound sympathy. But while sympathy is commendable what these unfortunate women may need is a good, honest, square-deal Restorative Tonic and Strength-giving Nervine and Regulator—one compounded and carefully adapted to act in harmony with woman's peculiar, delicate, ever sensitive organization.

Who so well fitted to select, carefully proportion the ingredients and compound a remedy for the cure of these distressing and often pain-wracking weaknesses and derangements, as the carefully and thoroughly educated and regularly graduated physician who has had a long and successful experience in treating just this class of cases.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

THIS MEDICINE IS

THE ONE REMEDY Now, and for over 40 years, sold by druggists for Woman's Peculiar Weaknesses, and Distressing Ailments, gotten up by one having all of the above qualifications.

THE ONE REMEDY which absolutely contains neither alcohol (which to most Women is rank poison) nor injurious or habit-forming drugs.

THE ONE REMEDY which is so perfect in its composition and so good in its curative effects as to warrant its makers in printing its every ingredient, as they do, on its outside wrapper, verifying the same under solemn oath.

In all the above most important particulars, the "Favorite Prescription" stands absolutely alone—in a class all by itself—as woman's most reliable and trust-worthy remedy in time of sickness and distress. It is a pure glyceric extract made from American curative roots, found by long time experience most valuable in curing woman's weaknesses and derangements. The leaders in all schools of medical practice have endorsed each of its ingredients as of the best known remedies for the complicated affections for which it is recommended. These professional endorsements should count for far more than any number of lay testimonials. A booklet full of them sent free on receipt of name and address.

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, R. V. Pierce, M. D., Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

PROPERTY SOLD.

Mr. F. H. Haggard Saturday morning sold to Mr. B. L. Bruner the property on Flanagan street recently purchased from Mrs. McIntosh for $750.

AUDITORIUM.

One of the funniest acts that has appeared at the Auditorium theatre in some time is Lew Wood, the ventriloquist, who amused a large audience Friday night. With Tommy and George, the boys who smoke, talks and sings. Come this is undoubtedly the best act seen here in a long time. Currie and Earl, pianologue and comedy entertainers, are presenting an excellent act mixed with plenty of good music, songs and some good baseball dope. With two good pictures the show is above the standard.

Ladies, don't fail to attend the demonstration of Burnett's extracts and fruit coloring this week at Parrish and Bradley's. 10-24-tf.

Origin of "Boom."
"Boom," as in the phrase, "rubber boom," is of American origin and appears to have originated in the west somewhere about 1878. Its original reference was to rapid movement producing a roaring sound. When a "lim" of logs breaks up the logs are borne violently down stream, and are then said to be booming, so it seems probable that the expression originated in the lumber trade, and spread thence to all forms of business.
